

LINNEAN SOCIETY OF LONDON | EVENTS | SPRING – SUMMER 2019

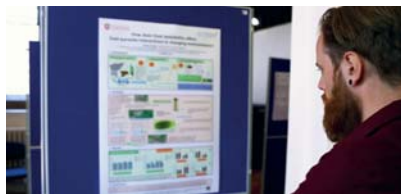

9 January
 12:30–13:00

Can Fossils Solve the Origin of Comb Jellies?
Dr Jakob Vinther, University of Bristol

17 January
 18:00–19:00

Adaptations of Mammals to Urban Living
Prof Dawn Scott, University of Brighton

1 February
 10:00–17:0

Linnean Society Student Conference
 Listen to the next generation of natural historians

13 February
 12:30–13:00

Deceivers, Doppelgangers and Degenerates
Dr Ross Piper, BBC's Wild Burma: Nature's Lost

21 February
 18:00–19:00

Annual Debate: The Future of Plant Science
In association with the London Evolutionary Research Network (LERN)

6 March
 12:30–13:00

The History of Seed Exchange
Dr Maria Zytaruk, University of Calgary

21 March
 18:00–19:00

Nature's Palette: Understanding how FLOWERS
 Pattern their Petals
Dr Edwige Moyroud, University of Cambridge

22 March
 10:00–17:00

Linnean Society Conference:
 Diversity within Natural History
Registration fee (£15) includes lunch and refreshments

These meetings are open to all. Please register via our website on <https://www.linnean.org/events>
 For further information follow us on:

